Introduction to Lesson
20 mins	Recap on previous learning task, and reflect on how well children have stored information they have found. Show children how to scan and read through saved text. Consider focus of research: Why Romans settled in Britain and Boudicca's revolt. Begin to show children how information can be repackaged for given audiences.	Children to select, copy and paste relevant information into a word processing document. Children to begin to organise their written work. To read, scan and scrutinise for relevant information. Editing skills: re-writing where necessary for given audiences.
Main part of Lesson:
30 mins	Consider focus of research: Why Romans settled in Britain and Boudicca's revolt. Begin to show children how information can be repackaged for given audiences. Children to produce piece of written work for given audience that deals with the significant ideas behind research focus.	Children to work through the learning task, using copy and paste techniques to save information/text. Word processing skills. Highlight information where required and re-write where needed. To complete written pieces on Romans in Britain and Boudicca for KS1 and KS2.
Plenary:
10 mins	Go through children's work. Make comparisons between children's completed work, drawing attention to good features of their written pieces. Ensure all work is suitable for the audiences it is intended for.	Ensure all relevant information is saved and stored affectively. Show children how to keep files with important information. Check all written work is clear and accurate and appropriate. Re-write sections if children consider improvements can be made.

Homework opportunities: Write some directions/instructions for two audiences to reinforce writing task.	Pupil Support: Class teacher working with small group with carefully selected information for some children to use.	Extension Activities: Look at and consider other web sites to identify how they have been tailored for different audiences.
